1. CHECKING IN WITH YOURSELF

Please take some time to ask yourself (and answer honestly) the following questions as you begin the MUP application process. (If married, please do this individually and then share together.)

- ✦ Spiritual:
    - What does my relationship with the Lord look like? Where do I need growth to be a role model for new believers?
    - How am I living out my faith in my home church/fellowship? Local community? Beyond?
  - ✦ Interpersonal/Team:
    - How do I feel about working closely with those of different doctrinal and cultural backgrounds?
    - How am I at being a team-player? In what ways do I need to grow as I consider becoming part of a UPG (unreached people group) focused team and the extra stresses of cross-cultural living?
  - ✦ Finances:
    - How am I doing at managing my finances? What debts or obligations might delay me from going? (ask MUP if you have questions about our policy on debt)
    - How do I feel about raising support for my/our financial needs overseas?
  - ✦ Personal Issues:
    - How does my lifestyle reflect a commitment to personal purity? What areas need growth?
    - How does my spouse/family feel about my/our call to missions?
    - Am I healthy enough emotionally and physically to endure the rigors of ministry in hard places?
  - ✦ Missions:
    - What is my understanding of God's heart for the nations?
    - How do I feel about committing my life to seeing an UPG transformed with the Gospel?

2. CHECKING IN WITH YOUR CHURCH

Make an appointment with your missions or head pastor (or a leader in your church who knows you well) to share a bit about your calling or desire to go and that you are exploring MUP and its vision for ministry. Share and gain feedback on your readiness to go in the areas listed above. (If married, both should meet together with your pastor.)
